Dear Sirs,

I write on behalf of Malin Industrial Concrete Floors Ltd in the interests of providing a reference for Ever Ready Mix.

We recently had the pleasure of working with Ever Ready on a flooring project at iPort for Buckingham Contractors. The internal floor slabs for Units 1a, 1b and 10 comprised approx. 44,500m<sup>2</sup> across the three units, providing a total concrete volume of approx. 8,900m<sup>3</sup>. The project was spread over 48 days with daily volumes between 170m<sup>3</sup> to 200+m<sup>3</sup>.

This was the first time we worked with Ever Ready and we were not disappointed. From the initial stages of mix design to the last drop of concrete supplied their approach was professional and helpful. We have future projects in the area and will certainly be looking to work with Ever Ready again.

They took the time to work with us on the mix design, their concrete technician was knowledgeable and had a good understanding of their materials, which took the pain out of developing a flooring mix suitable for a power-trowelling.

Their batching was superb, each load arriving well mixed and of the same consistence. Concrete passed our stringent on-site QA with no problems (infact they had no loads rejected due to failing QA – a first for us!!).

Delivery service was good, a well-managed batching plant and mixer fleet meant we had timely deliveries with no excessive gaps between loads.

Malin have good experience with all the national suppliers in the area (Breedon, Hanson, Tarmac) and it is far too easy to dismiss local independent suppliers, but in this case the professionalism, personal contact, quality and service would beat the nationals hands down.

Please feel free to call me on the number below if you would like to discuss further, but you'd be pushed to find a better supplier in the area.

Regards,
Adam
